Presentation

You can combine any, every, no, and some with thing, where, one, and body (e.g., anybody, everywhere, nothing, someone) to talk in general about things, people, or places.

	-thing	-where	-one	-body
any-	anything	anywhere	anyone	anybody
every-	everything	everywhere	everyone	everybody
no-	nothing	nowhere	no one	nobody
some-	something	somewhere	someone	somebody

When a word with any-/every-/no-/some- is a subject, the verb is in the singular form:

Nobody sells our jewelry.

Everything is good at this store.

-one / -body

There is no difference between the words ending in -one and -body.

Anyone can sell jewelry, but nobody sells our jewelry. =
Anybody can sell jewelry, but no one sells our jewelry.

not any- / no-

not any (-thing/-where/-one/-body) and no (-thing/-where/-one/-body) have the same meaning:

There isn't anything in the cabinet. = There's nothing in the cabinet.

Notice the spelling: no one (not noone)

Word order with adjectives

Notice that the adjective comes after something, anywhere, etc., and not before.

Buy her something special this year.

We didn't go anywhere interesting over the weekend.
